Narrative Summary:

Christine is a powerful force behind the success of the Women's Council of Wisconsin. Christine has exceeded the goals and responsibilities of Director without fail. She develops so many ideas on new initiatives, projects, publicity and tools that it is much easier for me as chair and the rest of the board to set a clear direction. Operating independently, she develops concepts from the seed of an idea to fruition and extends our influence and support of women by bringing our talents to other groups to be reinforced by them and further extend our impact. Within her limited budget, Christine makes the most of every dollar with her original work by avoiding reinventing the wheel which sets us apart from other groups and magnifies our impact a hundred fold.

Christine does an amazing job of taking into account the views of members on both sides of the aisle. She keeps the board well-informed and involved, all while remaining engaging and beyond professional. She remains devoted and driven to giving women tools to improve their standing. mjkb
