

Wisconsin Women Roared into Public Office in the 1920s

THE ROARING '20s BROUGHT A NEW MODERN ERA FOR AMERICAN WOMEN AND SET WISCONSIN WOMEN ON A NEW PATH AS GOVERNMENT LEADERS.

The groundwork for this surge of women into public office began in 1875 when Wisconsin women allowed to run for School Board and other elected School offices.

Then in 1919 the 19th Amendment gave women in the United States the vote.

The Wisconsin Legislature followed the lead and in 1921 passed the nation's first equal rights bill, granting women full equality with men under civil law., including holding public office.

WISCONSIN WOMEN'S POLITICAL FIRSTS

Wisconsin's first Lady Mayor, Lulu Shaw was elected in 1923 in Crandon.

"The women have only begun. They make good campaigners – fully as good as men". Shaw led reforms for lower taxes, less moonshine and fought corruption.

In 1923, Ane M. Hanrahan, Brown County, was the first woman elected to a County Board in Wisconsin.

In 1924, Hanna C. Saunders, Burnett County, was elected Wisconsin's first female Sheriff.

Mrs. Saunders replaced the outgoing sheriff, her husband Charles. "Her election assured that someone from her family would continue in the sheriff's position despite limits on successive terms. Her run was based on a common division of labor in sheriff's offices, where wives assisted their husbands with the non-policing aspects of the position."

And in 1925 three women, Mildred Barber, Helen Brooks and Helen Thompson, became the first women elected to the Wisconsin State Assembly.
